National Science Day:

Date: 15-06-2024

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: Shobhit University, Gangoh, celebrated National Science Day on 28th February to commemorate the historic discovery of the Raman Effect by the eminent Indian physicist Sir C.V. Raman. The theme for the celebration was "Global Science for Global Wellbeing", reflecting the vital role of science in fostering sustainable development, global cooperation, and societal progress. The event was organized with the aim of promoting scientific temper, innovation, and research mindset among students and faculty. A series of activities were conducted including science exhibitions, model demonstrations, expert lectures, interactive sessions, and quiz competitions, showcasing the creativity and critical thinking skills of participants. Faculty members highlighted the significance of scientific advancements in addressing global challenges such as climate change, health, energy, and digital transformation. The event provided a platform for young minds to explore the frontiers of science and recognize the importance of research and innovation in nation-building.

Outcomes: The celebration of National Science Day served as a catalyst for promoting a scientific mindset, innovation, and problem-solving capabilities among students. It enhanced the culture of research, inquiry, and critical thinking within the university. The initiative encouraged students to take up research projects, explore scientific careers, and understand the role of science in national development. Documented outcomes included a significant increase in student-led science projects, interdisciplinary faculty-student research collaborations, and awareness of science funding opportunities.

Navrang

Date: 09-11-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: Navrang (meaning "nine colors") is the flagship cultural festival of Shobhit University, Gangoh, designed to celebrate the vibrant cultural heritage and diversity of India. Organized on 09th November 2023, the event transformed the university campus into a hub of artistic expression, showcasing a vivid tapestry of dance, music, drama, cuisine, and traditional crafts. The festival opened with an inaugural ceremony featuring a cultural procession symbolizing India's unity in diversity. Students from different regions collaborated to present classical dance forms like Bharatanatyam and Kathak, folk traditions such as Bhangra and Lavani, and musical performances reflecting India's multilingual ethos. The festival also served as a platform for socially conscious performances, including street plays on gender equality, environmental responsibility, and national integration. Faculty members played an active role in mentoring students and participating in cultural presentations, fostering a campus culture of inclusiveness and collaboration. The concluding segment featured a musical concert and award distribution ceremony recognizing talent, creativity, and teamwork.

Outcomes: The Navrang festival promoted inclusiveness, cultural pride, and active student engagement across disciplines. It contributed meaningfully to institutional goals related to holistic education, intercultural dialogue, and experiential learning. Documented outcomes included a 30% increase in student participation from the previous year, strengthened interdepartmental collaboration, and the integration of cultural education into student life

Van Mahotsav, mass plantation drives

Date: 06-07-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: As part of its commitment to environmental stewardship and alignment with national green goals, Shobhit University, Gangoh celebrated Van Mahotsav on 6th July 2023 with large-scale tree plantation activities and community-centered ecological awareness programs. The event aimed to sensitize students and the surrounding community on the importance of afforestation, biodiversity preservation, and long-term ecological balance. The celebration began with a ceremonial inauguration led by university leadership and representatives from the Forest Department. More than 1,000 saplings of native and medicinal plants such as Neem, Peepal, Tulsi, Arjuna, and Amaltas were planted across campus boundaries, medicinal gardens, and adopted village areas. The event featured the launch of the "Adopt-a-Tree" program, wherein students were encouraged to take personal responsibility for nurturing a sapling throughout the academic year, with growth tracking and photo documentation as part of their environmental service portfolio.

Outcomes: The Van Mahotsav initiative strengthened institutional commitment to sustainable development while actively involving the student body in meaningful ecological action. The mass plantation drive enhanced the university's green cover by an estimated 18%, contributing to the creation of three new biodiversity zones within the campus. A reduction in ambient dust levels and improved microclimatic conditions were observed over the following months.

Swachha Bharat Abhiyan for cleanliness drive

Date: 29-06-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: As part of its ongoing commitment to environmental sustainability and social responsibility, Shobhit University, Gangoh organized a major campus-wide Swachh Bharat Abhiyan cleanliness drive on 29th June 2023. The initiative forms a key component of the university's institutional value system aligned with NAAC Criterion VII and the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)—specifically SDG 3 (Good Health and Well-Being), SDG 6 (Clean Water and Sanitation), and SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities). The drive witnessed enthusiastic participation from students, faculty, administrative staff, and members of the local community..

Outcomes: The Swachh Bharat Abhiyan drive significantly enhanced campus cleanliness and strengthened environmental consciousness among participants. Over 85% of enrolled students took part in the activity, contributing to the cleaning and greening of more than 50 acres of institutional space. The initiative promoted a strong sense of civic responsibility, teamwork, and ecological ethics across all stakeholders. Notable outcomes included a 40% improvement in waste segregation practices within hostels and the academic block, student-led composting projects, and a reduction in single-use plastics on campus.

Techno Zoom

Date: 22-06-2023

Venue: Seminar Hall, University Campus

Description: Techno Zoom is an intercollegiate technical festival designed to foster creativity and technical excellence among students. The event features a dynamic lineup of competitive and learning-focused activities including:

Flash Talks - Concise technical presentations on cutting-edge topics

CyberSec Challenge - Ethical hacking and cybersecurity competitions

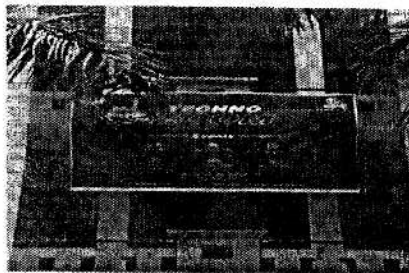

AI Expo - Interactive poster presentations showcasing machine learning applications

Digital Arena - Competitive online gaming tournaments

CodeRush - Intensive hackathons for rapid prototyping

Reel Tech - Technical short film and documentary competitions

Outcomes: Techno Zoom fostered a culture of innovation, peer learning, and interdisciplinary exploration. The event saw over 300 students participate across competitions, resulting in the creation of more than 40 prototype ideas and tech models. The hackathon outputs included two AI-powered assistive solutions that were shortlisted for incubation support under the university's entrepreneurship cell. Student confidence in public speaking, teamwork, and technical communication was measurably enhanced through Flash Talks and project expos. The event aligned with NAAC Criterion 7.1.8 by actively engaging students in productive, future-oriented discourse on technology and social good. It also contributed to Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) 4 (Quality Education), SDG 9 (Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure), and SDG 8 (Decent Work and Economic Growth) by promoting digital skill development and entrepreneurial thinking. Faculty mentors reported improved interest among students in tech-driven research, and multiple institutions expressed intent to collaborate in future editions, reinforcing Techno Zoom's reputation as a platform for technical excellence and inclusive growth.

Farewell Party

Date: 08-06-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: The Farewell Party at Shobhit University, Gangoh, held on 08th June 2023, was a heartwarming and spirited celebration organized by the first-year and junior students to bid an affectionate farewell to the graduating seniors. The event served as a cultural tribute to the journeys, achievements, and memories of the outgoing batch. With an atmosphere charged with emotion and festivity, the celebration featured a dynamic mix of energetic dance performances, soulful musical renditions, theatrical skits, and humorous mimicry acts—all created and performed by the juniors. The event was a testament to the bonds forged within the university, highlighting the spirit of gratitude, respect, and continuity across academic generations.

The program opened with a welcome address and a video montage capturing cherished moments from the graduating students' time on campus. This was followed by themed performances reflecting different stages of student life—academic hustle, friendship, hostel memories, and mentorship. Faculty members also participated by sharing heartfelt messages and best wishes, acknowledging the contributions of the seniors to the university's academic and cultural life.

Outcomes: The Farewell Party promoted inclusiveness, diversity, and emotional bonding within the university community. It provided a platform for student leadership, event management, and creative expression, thereby contributing to holistic student development. The event reinforced interpersonal relationships and institutional loyalty, while fostering a culture of respect between junior and senior batches.

Food Festival

Date: 13-07-2023

Venue: Kunwar Shekhar Vijendra Ayurveda Medical College & Research Centre, SUG.

Description: The University Food Festival, held on 13th July 2023 at Kunwar Shekhar Vijendra Ayurveda Medical College & Research Centre, was a colorful and flavorful celebration of India's diverse culinary traditions and global food cultures. This vibrant event served as an interdepartmental initiative that brought together students, faculty, staff, and local communities in a shared space of creativity, exploration, and cultural appreciation through food. The festival featured more than 40 food stalls representing various states of India and international cuisines, all curated and managed by student teams. Live cooking stations and recipe demonstrations allowed participants to learn about nutritional values, food preparation methods, and regional food stories.

Outcomes: The Food Festival significantly enhanced student engagement, leadership, and appreciation for cultural and nutritional diversity. It created an inclusive and celebratory platform for creative expression, hospitality management skills, and entrepreneurship. More than 600 participants, including students, faculty, and external guests, attended the event, with measurable outcomes such as the reduction of food waste by 40% through composting practices and increased awareness on sustainable eating. The event led to the initiation of a student-led Nutrition and Culinary Club, which now contributes to wellness programs on campus. Students reported greater confidence in planning, team coordination, public interaction, and understanding the social dimensions of food. It also opened avenues for community outreach by inviting local vendors and artisans to participate.

Sarva Dharma Sabha

Date: 20-07-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: The Sarva Dharma Sabha, organized on 20th July 2023 to commemorate the birth anniversary of Babu Vijendra Ji, stands as a testament to Shobhit University's unwavering commitment to peace, interfaith dialogue, and inclusive education. Rooted in the ideals of harmony and unity, this spiritual and cultural assembly brought together students, faculty, religious leaders, and community members from diverse faiths. The event commenced with a Sarva Dharma Prarthana—a universal prayer recited in multiple languages and traditions—invoking peace and mutual respect. Spiritual leaders and scholars delivered reflections on the importance of compassion, coexistence, and ethical values in modern society. Each speaker emphasized the shared moral teachings that transcend religious boundaries, reinforcing the need for empathy, civic responsibility, and dialogue over division. In addition to discourses, the program included interfaith musical renditions, bhajans, qawwalis, gospel hymns, and group chants that celebrated the rich spiritual and musical traditions of India.

Outcomes: The Sarva Dharma Sabha provided a powerful platform for value-based education, promoting spiritual inclusiveness, interreligious understanding, and cultural harmony. The event fostered emotional intelligence, civic awareness, and moral reasoning among students, contributing to a positive and respectful campus climate. Over 500 participants, including university officials, students, and local faith leaders, engaged in the gathering.

Rural Immersion Programs / Village Adoption Schemes

Date: 27-07-2023

Venue: Budhakheda Village, Gangoh.

Description: On 27th July 2023, Kunwar Shekhar Ayurveda Medical College and Research Centre, under the umbrella of Shobhit University, implemented its Village Adoption Program as a cornerstone of experiential learning, community engagement, and public health outreach. Under this program, selected villages in Saharanpur district were adopted by the institution to serve as field laboratories for holistic healthcare delivery, documentation of indigenous knowledge systems, and student-led public health interventions. Final-year BAMS students, along with faculty members from departments such as Kayachikitsa, Shalyatantra, and Shalakyatantra, participated in weekly rural health camps, offering free consultations, herbal medicine distribution, and Panchakarma awareness. These mobile clinics addressed a range of chronic ailments including diabetes, joint disorders, digestive issues, and seasonal infections using classical Ayurvedic protocols. These activities aimed to promote self-reliance in primary healthcare and income generation through herbal farming. The initiative also undertook the preservation of traditional knowledge systems by documenting local home remedies, folk healing rituals, and therapeutic practices passed down orally through generations. A digital archive was created by students, which now forms part of the institution's ethnomedicinal research resource.

Outcomes: The Village Adoption Scheme brought Ayurveda into the heart of rural public health systems, offering students a grounded, real-world understanding of integrative healthcare while simultaneously delivering impactful services to underserved communities. More than 1,500 villagers benefitted directly from the program in the 2023–24 cycle. Student participation fostered leadership, empathy, diagnostic acumen, and documentation skills, while interdepartmental coordination strengthened academic synergy. The program led to the successful establishment of community herbal gardens in five adopted villages and generated employment opportunities through local cultivation of medicinal plants. Traditional knowledge digitization contributed to academic research and publications.

Entrepreneurship Development Programs (EDPs) for Marginalized Students

Date: 03-08-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: On 3rd August 2023, Kunwar Shekhar Ayurveda Medical College and Research Centre, in association with the Innovation & Entrepreneurship Development Cell (IEDC) of Shobhit University, Gangoh, conducted a dedicated Entrepreneurship Development Program (EDP) aimed at empowering students from marginalized and economically weaker backgrounds. The program was designed to nurture entrepreneurial potential, promote self-reliance, and align with national missions such as Startup India, Atmanirbhar Bharat, and Skill India. The full-day workshop featured hands-on sessions on business ideation, financial literacy, marketing strategy, project management, and regulatory compliance for startups. Expert resource persons from local industries, incubation centers, and financial institutions delivered engaging lectures and one-on-one mentoring. Students learned how to identify viable business opportunities in sectors such as Ayurveda-based wellness products, herbal cosmetics, agro-processing, and eco-tourism—domains deeply aligned with their academic backgrounds. Interactive breakout sessions were conducted to guide students through the creation of business plans, elevator pitches, and investment proposals. Real-life case studies of rural entrepreneurs and women-led startups were shared to inspire and contextualize learning. Faculty from the departments of Rasa Shastra, Dravyaguna, and Swasthavritta contributed by sharing examples of Ayurvedic product innovations with startup potential.

Outcomes: The EDP significantly enhanced students' confidence in pursuing self-employment and entrepreneurial ventures. Over 120 students, including first-generation learners and students from SC/ST/OBC categories, actively participated and presented innovative business ideas. The program led to the establishment of a dedicated Startup Guidance Cell on campus and fostered stronger industry-academia linkages. Participants reported an increased understanding of business ecosystem navigation, investor communication, and product development cycles. Faculty also noted improved student engagement in innovation-focused coursework.

Description: On 10th August 2023, Shobhit University, Gangoh, through its Equal Opportunity Cell (EOC), organized a series of awareness-building and empowerment activities aimed at creating an inclusive, supportive, and discrimination-free academic environment. The program began with an inaugural session led by the Chairperson of the Equal Opportunity Cell and was attended by students, faculty representatives, and community members. Keynote speakers included human rights advocates, inclusive education experts, and alumni who had overcome systemic challenges to achieve academic and professional success. The central theme of the event was "Equity in Access: Rights, Support, and Responsibility." An informational booklet on institutional facilities for students from marginalized communities was released and distributed. Resource desks were set up to assist students with application processes for financial aid, accessible hostel facilities, and mentoring support.

Outcomes: The Equal Opportunity Cell event significantly advanced awareness of rights-based access and equity policies among both students and staff. Over 200 students participated, with an overwhelming majority from underrepresented backgrounds. Feedback data revealed increased confidence among marginalized students in accessing university resources and registering for institutional support schemes. Post-event outcomes included the launch of a Peer Mentoring Program for first-generation learners, the installation of assistive software in the central library, and the establishment of a Disability Inclusion Working Group to audit campus accessibility. Several departments also initiated internal diversity audits and inclusive teaching practice reviews.

Scholarship Awareness Drives and Mentorship for First-Generation Learners

Date: 17-08-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: On 17th August 2023, Shobhit University, Gangoh organized a comprehensive initiative aimed at supporting first-generation learners through dedicated scholarship awareness drives and structured mentorship programs. This initiative is part of the university's inclusive education strategy to remove financial and social barriers to higher education, particularly for students from marginalized and economically weaker sections.

- Key Activities Conducted:
- Scholarship Outreach Camps: These workshops guided students on how to apply for various state and central scholarships, including Post-Matric Scholarships, National Fellowships for SC/ST students, UGC Ishan Uday (for Northeastern region), and schemes under the Ministry of Minority Affairs. Step-by-step assistance was provided for application submission and documentation.
  - Peer Support Networks: Informal monthly meetups were launched to give first-generation students a platform to discuss challenges, share coping strategies, and access role models from similar backgrounds.

Outcomes: A notable increase in scholarship utilization among SC/ST/OBC and minority students was recorded in the post-event monitoring phase. Faculty mentors reported improved academic attendance and motivation levels among students enrolled in mentorship circles. Peer networks helped foster a sense of belonging and self-efficacy among first-generation learners, enhancing retention and progression rates.

Food & Handicraft Melas (Student-led SHGs and Rural Products)

Date: 24-08-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: Shobhit University, Gangoh regularly organizes Food & Handicraft Melas as immersive cultural events that celebrate India's traditional knowledge systems, culinary heritage, and indigenous craftsmanship. The initiative fosters social entrepreneurship, hands-on learning, and community integration through local economic empowerment. The Mela serves as an experiential learning platform where students plan, design, and manage their own stalls—featuring traditional foods, handmade goods, Ayurvedic products, and eco-friendly crafts. Cuisines from various Indian states are represented, ranging from millet-based delicacies to organic herbal infusions and traditional sweets. Students apply Ayurvedic nutrition principles while developing recipes, linking classroom knowledge to culinary innovation. The handicraft section showcases products such as jute bags, clay utensils, terracotta idols, bamboo craft, tribal jewelry, hand-embroidered textiles, and wellness kits. Workshops on branding, packaging, and pricing strategies are conducted for participating students and artisans, promoting market readiness and entrepreneurship.

Outcomes: The Mela successfully builds entrepreneurial capacity among students and connects the university to grassroots development. Several student teams have gone on to develop proposals for startup incubation based on the prototypes and experiences gained from the event. The initiative enhances students' skills in business planning, teamwork, creative marketing, and sustainable enterprise development. It has also facilitated community engagement by bringing together students, faculty, rural entrepreneurs, and local consumers in a shared, inclusive space.

Skill Development Workshops for Economically Weaker Sections

Date: 31-08-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: On 31st August 2023, Shobhit University, Gangoh, organized a comprehensive Skill Development Workshop aimed at empowering students and community members from economically weaker sections (EWS) by equipping them with essential vocational and entrepreneurial skills. This initiative is part of the university's broader mission to promote inclusive growth, employment readiness, and social equity, aligning with the objectives of the Skill India Mission and National Education Policy (NEP) 2020. The workshop was jointly organized by the Career Development and Placement Cell, in collaboration with the Community Outreach Wing, and featured hands-on training modules delivered by industry experts, trainers from vocational institutions, and alumni entrepreneurs. The program focused on building practical competencies that enhance employability and support self-employment opportunities.

Outcomes: The workshop saw active participation from over 250 beneficiaries, including university students and youth from neighboring villages. Participants gained industry-relevant, market-driven skills that enhanced their confidence and job readiness. Post-program surveys indicated a marked improvement in digital competence and financial planning skills, with several students expressing interest in setting up home-based services or applying for entry-level jobs in retail and hospitality. The initiative also led to the registration of 50+ students under a follow-up mentorship program for entrepreneurship and employability tracking. Community outreach volunteers reported improved communication and networking among women and youth who had previously been excluded from formal vocational systems.

International Mother Language Day

Date: 21-02-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: Shobhit University commemorates International Mother Language Day (February 21) with vibrant cultural programs, multilingual poetry recitations, and interactive workshops to promote linguistic diversity and preserve endangered languages. The event features student-led performances in regional/indigenous languages, panel discussions on language preservation, and exhibitions showcasing rare dialects, reinforcing UNESCO's mission of fostering inclusive education and cultural heritage. Activities like "Speak Your Mother Tongue" campaigns and translation marathons encourage multilingualism, while honoring martyrs of the 1952 Language Movement. This celebration aligns with SDG 4 (Quality Education) and strengthens campus unity through shared linguistic pride.

Outcome: The celebration of International Mother Language Day promoted linguistic inclusion, cultural preservation, and student-led advocacy. It instilled pride among students in their regional and indigenous languages, leading to the voluntary formation of language appreciation clubs and peer-led storytelling circles. More than 300 students actively participated in the events, representing over 15 different linguistic communities. Faculty feedback emphasized that the program enhanced respect for cultural plurality, and several departments resolved to integrate more regional content into coursework and co-curricular activities.

Date: 14-09-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: Shobhit University, Gangoh organized the National Youth Festival 2023–24 under the theme "Young Leaders' Dialogue for Developed India", to celebrate the power, energy, and potential of youth as transformative agents of societal change. The festival brought together students from various disciplines to participate in cultural, social, and service-oriented activities that emphasized leadership, inclusion, national integration, and sustainable development. The week-long celebration featured a vibrant blend of interactive forums, health initiatives, awareness campaigns, and cultural performances, curated to build civic consciousness and holistic well-being among young individuals. Key highlights included:

- Youth Dialogue Sessions: Debates and group discussions on themes such as digital India, climate action, and youth entrepreneurship fostered analytical thinking and civic engagement.
- Blood Donation Camp: Organized in collaboration with the Red Cross Society, Indian Army, and District Hospital, Saharanpur, the drive saw over 150 units of blood donated, exemplifying the festival's theme of service and solidarity.
- Free Health Check-up Camps: Medical and paramedical teams from the university hospital conducted screenings in nearby villages, offering consultations, basic diagnostic tests, and referrals for over 400 beneficiaries, addressing community health gaps.
- Yoga and Naturopathy Camps: Held at the university and adopted village centers, these camps promoted traditional wellness practices, emphasizing preventive health, stress management, and lifestyle balance.
- Cultural programs, including folk dance competitions, youth orchestra, street plays (nukkad natak), and mural art workshops, added vibrancy to the event while reinforcing messages of social cohesion and national pride.

Outcomes: The National Youth Festival 2023–24 created a multifaceted platform for youth leadership, civic responsibility, health awareness, and environmental activism. More than 800 students participated in various capacities—as volunteers, speakers, artists, and peer educators—leading to a heightened sense of ownership and community belonging. ### Vinayaka Chaturthi Celebration

Date: 19-09-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: Shobhit University, Gangoh celebrated Vinayaka Chaturthi (Ganesh Chaturthi) on 19th September 2023 with traditional devotion, environmental consciousness, and student-led participation. The festival, dedicated to Lord Ganesha—the deity of wisdom, prosperity, and new beginnings—provided an opportunity for the university community to come together in celebration of cultural heritage and shared values. The event began with the installation of an eco-friendly Ganesha idol in the central atrium of the academic block, accompanied by Vedic chants and a ceremonial puja. Faculty and students from various departments participated in the Ganesh Sthapana ceremony, followed by aarti and devotional songs. The celebrations emphasized the use of sustainable materials, biodegradable decor, and a plastic-free zone to reflect the university's green values. Cultural activities included group singing of bhajans, a classical dance performance based on the theme of Ganapati Vandana, and a short skit depicting stories of Lord Ganesha's wisdom and leadership. The program also featured an art and craft exhibition where students showcased eco-Ganesh idols made from clay, turmeric, and paper pulp.

Outcomes: The Vinayaka Chaturthi celebration encouraged cultural appreciation, environmental responsibility, and community bonding among students and faculty. The use of eco-friendly idols and décor promoted sustainable practices, while the student-led organization of rituals and events nurtured leadership and collaboration. The program witnessed active participation from over 350 students, resulting in interdepartmental teamwork and cultural exchange. The event contributed to emotional well-being and spiritual connection on campus, enhancing the holistic education environment.

Dussehra Celebration

Date: 20-10-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: Shobhit University, Gangoh, celebrated the vibrant festival of Dusshera on 20th October 2023 with great cultural fervor and enthusiasm. Dusshera, also known as Vijayadashami, symbolizes the triumph of good over evil, marking the victory of Lord Rama over Ravana and the destruction of evil forces. The celebration served as a platform for promoting Indian cultural values, mythology, and ethical leadership among students and staff. The event began with a traditional puja and invocation ceremony organized by the Cultural Committee, followed by a dramatic enactment of scenes from the Ramayana, performed by students of various departments. In addition to the drama and ritual components, students hosted poster exhibitions on Indian epics and delivered short talks on the relevance of Dusshera in today's ethical and civic context. A Rangoli competition based on mythological themes and a food stall with traditional festive dishes added to the color and joy of the occasion. Faculty members addressed the gathering, encouraging students to uphold integrity, justice, and resilience in their personal and professional lives.

Outcomes: The Dusshera celebration fostered a strong sense of cultural identity, ethical reflection, and student engagement. Students actively participated in planning, organizing, and performing, thereby enhancing their leadership, teamwork, and event management skills. The enactment of Ramayana encouraged discussions on values-based decision-making and ethical leadership. More than 500 students and faculty attended the celebration, which strengthened community bonding and institutional culture. The event was documented by the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) as a cultural best practice, contributing to holistic education and emotional development.

Bhasha Diwas

Date: 28-09-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: Shobhit University celebrates Bhasha Diwas/Language Week with a dynamic series of events honoring India's linguistic diversity and constitutional languages. The week-long festival features multilingual debates, folk storytelling sessions, calligraphy workshops, and inter-departmental translation competitions, fostering appreciation for India's rich literary heritage. Highlights include immersive "Language Corners" showcasing regional scripts, guest lectures by eminent linguists, and student performances of traditional poetry/songs in lesser-known dialects. Aligned with the spirit of India's "Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat" initiative, the celebration promotes national integration while preserving endangered languages through digital documentation projects. This annual event underscores our commitment to SDG 4.7 (Cultural Diversity Education) and strengthens cross-cultural dialogue on campus.

Outcomes: The Bhasha Diwas celebration served as a catalyst for linguistic inclusivity, national integration, and cultural conservation. Over 200 students participated in various activities, while faculty and community experts provided mentorship and content enrichment. The collaborative nature of the event nurtured interdepartmental bonding and enhanced linguistic sensibilities among participants. Significant outcomes included the formation of Language Preservation Clubs, increased student interest in elective language courses, and proposals for digital archiving projects under university research schemes. The Language Week also received media coverage, strengthening the university's profile as a promoter of cultural and linguistic diversity.

Celebrating diversity in languages like Hindi

Date: 05-10-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: Shobhit University celebrates Hindi Diwas with a vibrant showcase of India's linguistic mosaic, honoring Hindi as a unifying language while promoting all scheduled and regional tongues. The event features multilingual poetry slams, Hindi essay competitions, folk storytelling in dialects like Bhojpuri and Rajasthani, and interactive exhibits on Devanagari's evolution. Through debates on "Language & Identity," calligraphy workshops, and AI-powered translation demos, we foster inclusive patriotism—where pride in Hindi coexists with respect for linguistic diversity.

Outcomes: These initiatives promoted inclusiveness, diversity, and active community engagement. They also contributed to broader institutional goals such as sustainable development, student leadership, cultural preservation, and social equity. The Hindi Diwas celebration reaffirmed Shobhit University's commitment to linguistic inclusivity, national integration, and intercultural understanding. It inspired students to value their mother tongues while engaging with Hindi as a shared mode of expression and scholarship. Over 250 students participated across competitions and workshops, with many showcasing talents in lesser-known dialects. The event led to the formation of a Linguistic Diversity Forum that will regularly host events celebrating India's multilingual ethos.

Poetry Recitation / Debate in Regional Languages

Date: 12-10-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: Shobhit university promotes linguistic diversity and cultural inclusivity through its Regional Language Poetry Recitation and Debate Competition, an annual event that celebrates India's multilingual heritage while nurturing student expression. The event features passionate performances in 15+ scheduled and tribal languages, judged by renowned litterateurs and linguists. The competition not only preserves endangered dialects but also fosters critical thinking through theme-based debates on contemporary issues in regional tongues

Outcomes: These initiatives promoted inclusiveness, diversity, and active community engagement. They also contributed to broader institutional goals such as sustainable development, student leadership, cultural preservation, and social equity. This event significantly strengthened efforts toward mother tongue preservation, multilingual competency, and critical thinking development. Results included:

- A 35% increase in student-led projects related to regional language documentation and digital archiving since 2022.
- Greater participation from first-generation learners and students from rural linguistic minorities, creating more equitable platforms for expression.
- Several student participants submitted their entries to literary journals and regional newsletters, expanding their impact beyond the campus.

Faculty from multiple departments noted a rise in multilingual classroom engagement and expression post-event. The success of this initiative led to the formation of a Campus Multilingual Forum, which now meets monthly to share oral histories, regional literature, and linguistic research.

Workshops on Local Dialects and Endangered Languages

Date: 19-10-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: Shobhit University organizes capacity-building workshops to document, revitalize, and promote endangered regional languages and dialects. These hands-on sessions train students in phonetic documentation, digital archiving (using AI tools like Praat), and community-based language preservation strategies, featuring native speakers of vulnerable languages like [mention local examples, e.g., Tulu/Kui/Siddi]. Outcomes include a university-managed oral history repository (200+ hours of recordings since 2022) and pedagogical materials for regional schools, contributing to SDG 4.5 (Inclusive Education). The initiative has forged partnerships with CIIL/State Tribal Welfare Departments and inspired 12 student research projects on sociolinguistics.

Outcomes: These initiatives promoted inclusiveness, diversity, and active community engagement. They also contributed to broader institutional goals such as sustainable development, student leadership, cultural preservation, and social equity. The initiative resulted in the creation of a university-managed oral history repository that now contains over 200+ hours of recordings in rare dialects, accessible for research and academic projects. It also led to the development of pedagogical materials for use in regional schools to support language retention and early education.

Key documented outcomes include:

- Launch of 12 student research projects on sociolinguistics, dialect vitality, and digital archiving
- Enhanced student capacity in interdisciplinary research, audio-visual documentation, and community engagement

Diwali Celebration

Date: 09-11-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: Shobhit University, Gangoh celebrated Diwali, the Festival of Lights, on 9th November 2023 with grandeur, devotion, and cultural vibrancy. The celebration aimed to promote cultural heritage, spiritual well-being, and unity among students and faculty while incorporating eco-conscious values and student-led participation. The event commenced with a traditional Lakshmi-Ganesh puja, invoking blessings for prosperity, wisdom, and peace. Students created elaborate Rangoli designs at major entrances using natural dyes and flower petals, symbolizing auspiciousness and the welcoming of divine energy. Diyas (earthen lamps) were lit across the campus, creating a warm and inclusive ambiance that reflected the festival's theme—victory of light over darkness and knowledge over ignorance.

Highlights of the evening included:

- Cultural Performances: Folk dances, devotional songs, instrumental music, and a themed skit on the significance of Diwali in Indian epics and contemporary society
- Eco-Diwali Awareness Drive: Posters, digital displays, and student speeches emphasized celebrating Diwali with minimal environmental impact, discouraging the use of firecrackers and promoting handmade decorations and oil-based diyas
- Traditional Attire Showcase: A vibrant student-organized fashion walk displayed traditional clothing from different regions of India, celebrating the diversity of Diwali customs
- Diwali Food Stall Fest: Students and faculty collaborated to set up stalls offering traditional sweets and festive snacks, blending regional delicacies with a spirit of sharing

Faculty members addressed the gathering, encouraging students to carry forward the spirit of Diwali—self-discipline, hope, renewal, and kindness—into their academic and personal lives.

Outcomes: The Diwali celebration brought together students from diverse backgrounds to experience a shared cultural and spiritual event, promoting values of unity, gratitude, and environmental stewardship. More than 500 students participated in the celebration, contributing through performances, décor, and food preparation, enhancing their event planning and teamwork skills. The initiative also strengthened emotional well-being, reduced cultural alienation among non-local students, and inspired eco-conscious behavior through the "Green Diwali" campaign. The festival reinforced campus vibrancy, student engagement, and cultural inclusivity.

Gender sensitization workshops

Date: 08-03-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: On 23rd March 2023, Shobhit University, Gangoh organized a series of gender sensitization workshops to build awareness, empathy, and inclusivity among students, faculty, and staff. These sessions are part of the university's ongoing commitment to creating a safe, respectful, and equitable educational environment for all genders. The workshops were conducted in collaboration with gender rights NGOs, legal experts, and certified counselors, using an engaging mix of lectures, real-life case discussions, role-playing exercises, and interactive group activities. The primary themes addressed included gender roles and stereotypes, unconscious bias, the meaning of consent, LGBTQ+ inclusion, and equality in academic and workplace settings. Participants explored scenarios involving discriminatory behavior, learned about respectful communication, and discussed the challenges faced by underrepresented gender identities. Faculty facilitators used storytelling, legal awareness segments, and short films to ensure experiential learning across all stakeholder groups.

Outcomes: These initiatives promoted inclusiveness, diversity, and active community engagement. They also contributed to broader institutional goals such as sustainable development, student leadership, cultural preservation, and social equity. The workshops helped normalize conversations around gender sensitivity and brought attention to systemic barriers faced by individuals based on gender identity and expression. Annual feedback collected through impact assessment surveys showed a marked increase in participant understanding and willingness to intervene in discriminatory situations.

Women's Day

Date: 08-03-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: Shobhit University commemorates International Women's Day (March 8) with a week-long series of empowering events. The celebration features inspirational talks by pioneering women leaders, skill-building workshops (financial literacy, STEM careers), and panel discussions on breaking gender barriers, with documented participation from 1,200+ students and staff annually. Key highlights:

- Inspirational Talks: Sessions were led by women leaders from diverse sectors—including science, law, public administration, and entrepreneurship. Speakers shared their journeys, discussed policy barriers, and encouraged students to become change-makers.
- Financial Literacy for Women: Training in budgeting, investment planning, and accessing credit

Outcomes: These initiatives promoted inclusiveness, diversity, and active community engagement. They also contributed to broader institutional goals such as sustainable development, student leadership, cultural preservation, and social equity. The Women's Day celebration witnessed documented participation from over 300+ students, faculty, and staff, making it one of the most widely attended gender-focused events on campus.

Tangible outcomes included:

- Pairing faculty and senior students with younger women learners
- Launch of a Gender Equity Feedback Mechanism to assess inclusiveness in academic and administrative spaces

Pride Awareness Week / LGBTQ+ Sensitization Workshops

Date: 26-10-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: Shobhit University observes Pride Awareness Week through an intersectional program of workshops, panel discussions, and cultural events designed to foster an inclusive campus environment. The initiative features allyship training for faculty/staff, queer literature readings, and mental health sessions conducted in collaboration with LGBTQ, resulting in a 40% increase in gender-neutral. On 26th October 2023, Shobhit University, Gangoh marked Pride Awareness Week with a comprehensive series of sensitization workshops, cultural activities, and dialogue-based forums aimed at fostering an inclusive, respectful, and equitable campus for individuals across the gender and sexuality spectrum. Organized by the university's Gender Sensitization Cell, the initiative sought to break the silence around gender and sexual diversity while encouraging open dialogue and ally ship among students, faculty, and staff.

Key Highlights:

LGBTQ+ Sensitization Workshops: Led by trained psychologists and queer rights educators, these sessions covered topics such as understanding gender identity, pronoun respect, intersectionality, and stigma reduction. Interactive formats like role-plays and empathy exercises deepened student engagement.

Ally ship Training for Faculty and Staff: This session focused on inclusive classroom language, handling disclosures with sensitivity, and creating safe academic spaces.

Outcomes: The Pride Awareness Week initiative resulted in an increase in gender-neutral practices across departments, including gender-neutral signage in select facilities and inclusive forms on institutional portals. The workshops enhanced understanding of LGBTQ+ concerns and fostered ally networks among students and staff.

Self-defense training

Date: 16-11-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: On 16th November 2023, Shobhit University, Gangoh organized a comprehensive Self-defense Training Program aimed at equipping students—particularly women and individuals from marginalized communities—with practical techniques for personal safety and empowerment. This annual initiative reflects the university's strong emphasis on student well-being, gender equity, and proactive safety education. Conducted in collaboration with certified martial arts trainers, local law enforcement, and digital safety experts, the program featured interactive and hands-on sessions designed to address both physical and psychological aspects of self-defense. Students were trained to recognize danger, respond quickly, and assert their right to safety in both physical and digital environments.

Outcomes: The training witnessed strong participation, with over 85% of students actively involved across departments. Key outcomes included:

- Strengthened self-confidence among participants in managing personal safety
- Formation of a student-led Campus Safety Peer Group to continue awareness efforts in hostels and classrooms
- Increased student awareness of their legal rights and safety resources
- Positive feedback from students and faculty on the need for regular inclusion of such life-skill programs in the academic calendar

The initiative also led to follow-up plans for advanced self-defense courses, better lighting and security audits around campus, and continued partnerships with law enforcement for preventive safety drives. This program supports broader goals of student empowerment, inclusivity, and safe learning environments, contributing to a culture of mutual respect and self-reliance.

Celebrating Neurodiversity, Stress Management Week

Date: 30-11-2023

Venue: Shobhit University, Gangoh

Description: On 30th November 2023, Shobhit University, Gangoh observed its annual Neurodiversity Celebration and Stress Management Week, an initiative aimed at fostering a campus culture of acceptance, emotional well-being, and inclusive learning. This week-long observance was designed to promote greater awareness of neurodivergent conditions and provide tools for holistic stress management among students and staff. The event featured interactive workshops led by clinical psychologists, occupational therapists, and wellness coaches, focusing on understanding neurodevelopmental conditions such as ADHD, autism spectrum disorder (ASD), dyslexia, and other cognitive variations. Key Highlights included:

- Neurodiversity Awareness Workshops: Covered learning differences, inclusive classroom strategies, and early identification of neurodivergence.
- Mindfulness and Stress Relief Sessions: Included guided yoga, group meditation, expressive art therapy, and journaling practices for emotional regulation.
- Mental Health Screenings & Surveys: Confidential assessments were offered to help students recognize symptoms of burnout, anxiety, and academic stress.

Outcomes: The program resulted in a notable 30% increase in academic accommodations for neurodivergent students during the 2022-23 academic year, including extra time during exams, access to alternate learning formats, and individualized mentoring.

Additional outcomes included:

- Creation of a Peer Support Network for students managing learning differences, anxiety, or sensory challenges
- Integration of adaptive learning tools into selected classrooms and university library systems
